Journal Is Back Again In Business

The Coin Journal, published by David L. Polley in Abilene, Texas, is resuming publication with the October 5 edition.

In announcing the return of the publication to subscribers, Publisher Polley said:

"You have shown us a great courtesy in your temperance during a period of readjustment in the infant life of the Coin Journal. For this we will strive to give you the finest numismatic magazine possible, coupled with a program of improvement based on your needs and desires."

He also pointed out subscribers would have their subscriptions extended for a one-year period without charge.

The Journal Auction Board is being resumed, too, Polley announced and will be handled on a "very tight" basis.

The Auction Board is one of the unique features of the Coin Journal. Closing date for listings will be October 26.

All buyers and sellers will be furnished postpaid notification cards which will help expedite payments from the Coin Journal office, Polley explained.

"These payments will be mailed the day of receipt of notification and will be made in the form of certified cashiers' checks," he said.

The Coin Journal's Volume 1, No. 1 appeared February 1 of this year. It was started with one thought in mind, Publisher Polley wrote at the time — to better serve the numismatic enthusiast! Its operation was suspended in June; now it is resumed with the October 5 edition.

Government Retains Title To Coins Struck In Illegal Alloy

J. E. Charlton, author of the just-released ninth edition of the Standard Catalogue of Canadian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money, is shown here displaying a rare Canadian 1921 50 cent piece in a plastic holder. Not only is Charlton an outstanding numismatist and author, he heads with M. Charlton the Canada Coin Exchange, 80 Richmond St., East, Toronto, Canada.

Charlton's Book Is Out

The ninth edition of the Standard Catalogue of Canadian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money by J. E. Charlton is now on sale.

Written by one of Canada's foremost authorities in the field of numismatics, the book represents a complete reference to the collector of Canadian items.

It covers both the standard Canadian decimal coinage and all of the coins of Newfoundland, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Paper money is described from the early "playing card money" of 1714 to the present day.

Fifty pages of the book are devoted to a coverage of tokens that were used for money in Canada prior to the national coinage.

The interesting forward in the book contains valuable information on values of coins, monetary traditions, tokens, decimal coins, bank notes, commemoratives, mint marks, building a collection and coin associations.

The book was first introduced to collectors in 1952 by Author Charlton as a 34-page paper cover booklet.

This year the catalog will contain 126 pages packed full of information and the latest premium prices of all Canadian coins, tokens and paper money.

The books have a sewed binding and a hard cover with special soil-resistant finish. A high grade paper is used for finest printing and reproduction of the numerous halftone illustrations.

Purchasers of the book will be surprised and pleased with the hundreds of new photographs that have been used to improve the quality of the Canadian book this year. Nearly all of the line drawings have now been replaced with actual photographs of the coins. Prices in the ninth edition of the Standard Catalogue of Canadian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money show the general rise that was to be expected in this active series of coins.

About the only price to remain the same is that of the book itself—$1.50 in the United States and $1.60 in Canada.

It can be purchased at leading coin shops throughout the two nations, according to the publishers, the Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis.

Chapel Letters, Money Returned

Orders and money belonging to more than 100 puzzled, prospective customers of Don Charles Chapel have been returned to them by Milwaukee postal authorities because Don Charles Chapel doesn't live there any more.

Chapel advertised a series of Indian and Lincoln cents, nickels and dimes in the September 15 edition of Coin World, with instructions to send cashiers' checks or money orders only. He listed his address at 909 North Milwaukee, Milwaukee, Wis.

He paid the landlady at 909 North Milwaukee a $10 deposit for a room.

He paid Coin World $30 for two advertisements.

But for unexplainable reason (law enforcement officials could only speculate as to this reason) Chapel cancelled the second of his Coin World advertisements, wrote his landlady from Oklahoma that he wasn't coming back and failed to fill one single order!

He left no forwarding address. Milwaukee Postal Inspector C. E. McGinn disclosed.

In the wake of a series of complaints, the postal authorities began to return mail addressed to Chapel to the senders.

Coin World, because it is a weekly, had an early alert through a tip from a reader, and contacted Milwaukee postal authorities immediately in an effort to stem any potential loss of money by its advertising patrons.

"Everything has been sent back," McGinn said. He estimated more

Milk Wagon's Up For Trade!

Well, now . . .
Who's in the market for a 50-year-old milk wagon?
Without the horse.
Without the milk.
Just a plain old unadulterated milk wagon.

Charles Port, Youngstown, Ohio, won a 50-year-old milk wagon worth $500 on The Price Is Right television show.

Now he's advertising in this week's Coin World's classified section 195 for a trade.

He'll trade for 100 large date 1960 proof sets or four rolls BU 1960-P small dates.

For these he will give up his 50-year-old milk wagon without the horse, without the milk, just a plain, old unadulterated milk wagon. . .

Wells Shop Is Purchased By Two Philly Men

Acquisition of the Wells Stamp and Coin Shop, 614 West Maple Avenue, Merchantville, New Jersey, by O. J. Pernarelli (Don Perri) and Joseph A. D'Ascenzo is announced this week.

The Wells shop was formerly operated by J. Harold Wells who collapsed and died there on July 6.

The new owners have renamed the shop the "Penn-Jersey Coin and Stamp Exchange," and they are issuing a cordial invitation to visitors.

Pernarelli's numismatic reputation is already established through his Germantown Coin Exchange, 27 East Schoolhouse Lane, Philadelphia. He will continue this firm in addition to the new Merchantville establishment.

Both Pernarelli and D'Ascenzo are experienced collectors and dealers. D'Ascenzo is also known through his restaurant, Joe's Coffee Shop, Ridge Avenue and Rector Street, Philadelphia.

Miss Daisy Steinmetz will continue on the staff at the new Penn-Jersey Coin and Stamp Exchange; she was a member of the Wells personnel.

Mint Official Cites Series Of Laws, Rules

Title to coins struck by genuine Mint dies in an alloy other than that prescribed by statute has never left the government.

These coins must be recovered or retained by the Treasury Department.

This declaration came from Acting Director of the Mint Leland Howard in response to an inquiry regarding ownership of improperly minted money.

"This position is based primarily upon the fact that the requirements as to the weight, alloy and design of the coins of the United States are set forth by law," Acting Director Howard explained.

He continued:

"Issuance of any coins not conforming to those statutory requirements is specifically prohibited by section 3516 of the Revised Statutes (31 U. S. C. 322).

"Consequently such pieces are not legal coins of the United States and title remains in the government."

Acting Director Howard said in further clarification that since under provisions of Article IV, section 3 of the Constitution, no property of the United States may be disposed of except by specific authorization of the Congress, the Treasury Department must retain or recover the pieces.

The Mint executive said there have been very few pieces submitted to the Treasury Department for examination which have which have actually been found to have been struck by genuine Mint dies in an alloy other than the lawful material.

"Judicial support for the position that title to the pieces has not left the United States may be found in the language of the Court in the United States v. Barnard, 72 F. sup. 531," cited Howard.

In holding that a gold coin which had been taken from the Mint and its abstraction covered by the substitution of another gold coin not of numismatic value, the court stated in part as follows:

"It is clear that the gold piece which is the basis of this law suit did not leave the Mint as regularly and lawfully issued money, or currency, therefore, the rule under the law merchant that title to money passes with delivery to a person who acquires it in good faith and for a valuable consideration, and which was adopted to insure the ready acceptability of money and currency in normal channels of trade, is not applicable here."

"Since upon their face pieces of an alloy other than that prescribed by statute are not regularly and lawfully issued money, the statement above supports the position that the government is entitled to recovery of such pieces," concluded Acting Director Howard.

Occasion for the comprehensive statement from the Mint head came after Secret Service agents confiscated a cent struck on a "silver" planchet, discovered by Mrs. Joseph Gieder Sr., Silver Springs, Md., Justice Department employee.

Leland Howard, acting director of the United States Mint, personally stepped into the drama of Mrs. Joseph Gieder, Sr., Justice department employee and her silver cent—and declared it perfect except

Collector Dies After Beating

Gordon Gray Duncan, 51, a Seaton, Ill., newspaperman and avid coin collector, died on the operating table at Moline, Ill., public hospital after he was severely beaten when he interrupted safe crackers at the Seaton post office.

Funeral services were held September 10 at the Seaton Central Presbyterian Church. Burial was made in Greenmound Cemetery, Keithsburg.

Duncan was undergoing an operation to insert a tube in his throat about 2:30 p. m. when he died. He had undergone a delicate brain operation the previous day.

He was co-publisher of the Seaton Independent and Keithsburg News. Duncan never regained consciousness from the time he was discovered, tied and bleeding in the back room of the post office, and so was unable to describe or identify his assailants.

Duncan apparently surprised burglars who broke into the postal safe and was beaten about the head. Postal authorities said the thieves escaped with $93.

Authorities reported fingerprints found on the safe, and other possible items of evidence, were sent to the Illinois Crime Laboratory at Springfield for examination in hope of obtaining some clue to the identity of Duncan's assailants.

Mercer County State's Attorney Glenn Appleton dismissed earlier reports that the Federal Bureau of Investigation would be called in on the case. He said the bureau has no authority to enter the case,

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted Hammer

A shortage of money hampered Americans from the beginning of Colonies in the new world.

England had laws against colonies coining money. But even though the mint was the first public building authorized by Congress after the Revolution, the shortage of coins continued.

Outbreak of the Civil war brought an acute coin shortage which hit men and women in every walk of life. To make the situation even worse a rumor gained wide circulations that coins would increase in value. They did increase—it became profitable to melt down coins for their bullion value. As a result they all but disappeared from circulation.

There had been no paper money issued by federal authority, due largely to the fact that notes authorized by the congress of the United States of North America became worthless. Stories of the depreciation of the Revolutionary war "shinplasters" were handed down from father to son.

With $5 note the smallest in circulation in 1861, storekeepers found it difficult to make change. Banknotes were cut into pieces for "small change." A New Jersey bank solved the problem locally by issuing notes in denominations of $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75. Other private firms started issuing "shinplasters" for fractional sums. Street railway tickets were used for change.

The sale of postage stamps in New York City leaped from $3,000 to $16,000 daily, indicating the stamps were used for small change.

President Lincoln signed an act authorizing assistant treasurers to exchange stamps for government currency. Stamps thus became the official circulating small change.

Stamps, with mutilage on one side, did not wear well. Some business men solved this by sticking stamps to pieces of paper. Thus, one could have a "note" of any desired denomination.

This practice led to two further developments to relieve the shortage of coins—issuance of encased postage stamps and printing of postage currency.

The encased postage stamp was one placed on a brass disc and covered with mica. One side of the disc bore the name of the issuer. The government issued fractional notes of three cents, five cents, 10 cents, 15 cents, 25 cents and 50 cents. The first ones bore facsimiles of stamps, having been suggested by the bits of paper with stamps stuck to them.

Blackhawk Plans Show

There will be a banquet at 6:30 p.m. on October 29.

since a U. S. Post Office is not considered a federal reservation. Sheriff Richard Maynard has said he personally believes more than one person participated in the burglary. He added, however, there have been "no new developments in the case."

Postal officials have announced a temporary post office has been set up at Millinger Drug Store while the case is under investigation.

Duncan was born Feb. 8, 1909, at Seaton, where he was graduated from high school. He was a member of the Seaton Central Presbyterian Church and the Masonic Charity Lodge 838.

Surviving are two brothers, C. R. "Bill" of Seaton and Robert of Santa Fe, N. M., and two sisters, Mrs. Floyd Beckam and Mrs. Max Constant, both of Seaton.

Canadians Improvise In Scarcity

The nickel situation grows serious in Canada, and bank officials are convinced that one thing Canada does not need right now is a good five cent cigar.

The shortage of five-cent pieces in Winnipeg has reached the point where some banks are getting only a quarter of their normal requirements, cafes are sending employees on nickel-scrouring tours and some department stores are even changing prices to avoid the necessity of nickel change.

The shortage was predicted some time ago, when plates for a new Canadian nickel issue were delayed in England due to the shipping strike. In addition to this delay, the recalling of U. S. silver from Canadian circulation, undertaken by the banks themselves, drained thousands of dollars worth of nickels from the country. Now, the situation is becoming serious. One large downtown Winnipeg bank, which normally gives out about $400 worth of five-cent pieces each week, is lucky to get $100 worth from the Bank of Canada branch in Winnipeg.

This bank is simply asking its customers to go along with the shortage, accept $20 in nickels instead of $40, try to conserve what they have.

Restaurants are also suffering. Some have sent employees from store to store, buying even five nickels at a time, to get them through the day.

At least one Winnipeg store sought a more direct solution. It changed prices, dropping the odd figures which would create five-cent change items. The new prices can produce change in dimes and quarters.

Canadian Numismatist's Advice Is To Pick A Series And Complete It

H. C. Taylor, of Middlegate, one of Canada's outstanding numismatists—authority, writer and collector—was the subject of a page feature story recently in the Winnipeg Free Press newspaper, authored by Madeleine Bernier.

Described as a retired railroad man who made his way in the world from the time he left a smalltown Ontario school at the age of 12 and rose to be general transportation superintendent, 72-year-old Taylor is a student of history according to the story.

It continues:

But he is very modest about it all: "I studied history in a small way, in as much as a railroad man has the time."

It was only after retiring ten years ago he started building up a collection which now includes so many coins he "couldn't begin to say how many."

"Just like a boy likes stamps, I always liked coins," he explained, "and when I came across an interesting coin I'd toss it in a cigar box." Somewhere in his sub-conscious he felt the day would come when he would do something about it. Today he has never been "so darn busy in all my life."

From the cigar box the collection grew, and after about two years the "crystallization" stage was reached: Taylor realized from what he had on hand, he would specialize in Canadian, Roman Empire and ancient British coins. He said this is the only procedure to follow if one is to pursue the hobby. Adopt patterns and strive to complete them, is his advice.

Series of Canadian five and ten cent pieces dating back to 1858, when first issued by the government, and coins minted each consecutive year to the present day, form part of his collection, as well as large coppers issued that year to 1920, the last year of issue.

One 1921 five cent piece is worth about $300, he said, and his pennies' series could be marketed for $400. He also assembled silver dollars from the year 1935, when first issued to mark the 25th anniversary of George V's reign. Another of these large silver coin marks the 1939 visit to Canada by George VI and the present Queen Elizabeth—the Queen Mother, and still another recalls the entry of Newfoundland in the Dominion of Canada in 1949.

A Roman series is made up of coins representing almost all the Roman emperors from Augustus Caesar to the latter part of the 5th century of the Christian era.

Taylor's collection of Anglo-Saxon coins includes a denomination called "skeat" dating back to the first part of the ninth century, with the name of King Eanrod of Northumbria hammered into it, and another skeat indicating Eanbold, second Archbishop of York, also issued coins.

He spends innumerable hours sorting and mounting his coins.

H. C. Taylor, of Middlegate, Canada, is shown here displaying his collection covering the reigns of British rulers from William the Conqueror to Queen Elizabeth II. The coins are mounted with accompanying photographs of each monarch.

arch. Taylor photographed these himself from magazines. The noted Canadian numismatist was featured in a recent article and photographs in the Winnipeg Free Press.

Confederate Work Is Reprinted

"Confederate Notes and Bonds," a must for every Confederate collector, has just been released for sale by the Atlanta Coin Co., 209 Walton Bldg., Atlanta, 3, Georgia.

An exact copy of John W. Haseltine's Catalogue of Confederate Notes and Bonds as published in 1876—just 12 years after the Civil War—the catalogue is believed to be the only one listing Confederate bonds.

"It's a labor of love," he says, and consequently there is no chore to it as far as he is concerned. He also photographs them and does his own finishing for inventory and insurance purposes and also very much because "it's nice just to look" at the pictures conveniently gathered in albums.

Taylor is versed enough in history to take the trouble of photographing maps of ancient Roman possessions and coloring them according to the gradual decline of that great Empire.

It sells for $2.95—and it's a perfect replica of the original, with its warm, brown antique cover, the ornate, old-fashioned type faces. The original copy sold for 50 cents in 1776. But then the steam power printers, Bavis and Pennypacker, of Philadelphia, didn't charge as much as modern-day printers.

The many females contained in Haseltine's descriptive passages of the catalogue range from Mrs. Davis to milkmaids; the spelling is picturesque and obsolete.

Captain John W. Haseltine died in Philadelphia February 28, 1925, at the age of 87.

He wrote with authority about the Civil War because he fought in it. For many years he was active in the G.A.R.

For years he was a prominent Philadelphia dealer in coins and stamps.

Pittsburgh Club To Hold Exhibit Night

The November meeting of the Pittsburgh, Pa., Numismatic Society has been advanced to November 17 and will be members' exhibit night with talks and prizes, according to Constance A. Leone, reporter for the club.

An auction and open house have been scheduled for the October session.

He authored "Haseltine's Type Tables," which gave the die varieties of United States silver coins. He discovered the originals of the first designs for a silver and half dollar of the nova constellatio type.

Another of his discoveries was the New Jersey cent with the head of Washington on the reverse.

Captain Haseltine, an honorary member of the American Numismatic Association, helped S. H. and Henry Chapman begin their numismatic careers as his assistants in his business.

We Pass 25,000 Mark!

Next week is the six months' anniversary of Coin World. As we pause on the eve of our 26th issue we are proud and humble. Proud of the records we have set in serving American numismatics. Humble at the great expression of confidence expressed by you subscribers and dealer advertisers.

Dick Johnson

We have talked more on the editorial side of Coin World in these editorials, so in this issue—on the eve of the half year mark—we feel that a brief review of our circulation growth might be in order. You have already seen the record of advertising each week as the number of pages have increased.

With this 25th issue, we quickly pass the 25,000 mark for paid-in-advance subscriptions . . . an average of a thousand new subscribers a week! It once again shows that there is a need and a desire on the part of a lot of collectors to know more about coins. We aim to give that data to you more often and as fast as possible.

Let's take a quick look back and see how we arrived at that figure:

Date Of Issue	Paid Subscribers	Date Of Issue	Paid Subscribers
April 21	4,373	July 14	15,857
April 28	6,251	July 21	16,640
May 5	7,015	July 28	17,660
May 12	7,945	August 4	18,246
May 19	8,698	August 11	19,175
May 26	9,448	August 18	20,097
June 2	9,843	August 25	20,805
June 9	10,202	September 1	21,359
June 16	10,903	September 8	22,083
June 23	12,056	September 15	23,018
June 30	13,005	September 22	23,773
July 7	14,523	September 29	24,613

The grand total of the above paid circulation for 25 issues is 382,991 copies! If we totaled all of the extra copies which varied from four to six thousand each week as we sent out sample copies to collectors everywhere, you would begin to see an astronomical figure! Those extra copies are not counted in the paid subscription totals.

To arrive at an average paid circulation for the first 25 weeks, we divide the 382,991 total copies by 25 weeks and get the net paid circulation average of 15,319 subscribers which is the figure reported to the United States Post Office Department as part of the statement of ownership of Coin World required of all publications using second class mail privileges. This statement is printed on page 45 in this issue of Coin World.

With the continued enthusiastic response from collectors, we expect this paid circulation figure to continue rising as we are able to reach more people every week. We will continue telling them about the special advantages of coin collecting, giving them a combination of background information plus the news and events each week in Coin World.

Stay Tuned In!

We are excited about the coming issues of Coin World. The next three issues in October will be huge. There are two large mail bid sales coming up, and on Oct. 27th will be our first supplies and accessories special edition.

Our special editions are appearing more regularly now—we hope to give you at least one a month—something different each month. We would like for you to be a part in our next special edition: write us a letter telling us how you house your collection—if you have done this in some unusual manner, other collectors might like to know about it.

Stay tuned in! The next issues of Coin World are going to be mighty interesting!

Letters To The Editor

Enclosed is an open letter in answer to Admiral Dodson's statement on the front page of Coin World's issue of September 15. I feel that in due respect for the many advertisers who have been advertising this coin in your paper that the article had a tendency to degrade the coin by one man's opinion.

I have 25 years of coin collecting in my background and I like the coin as excellent for future investment and as of now, I have only a few. The open letter to Mr. Dodson follows:

In all due respect to your knowledge of coin collecting, I would like to voice my opinion in disagreement to your statement and feel that you have only added additional confusion.

In the past, there have been date varieties such as the large cents, 1858 small and large letters, 1864 two-cent piece with joining stem, 1864-L Indian, etc. The 1960-P is far more than a minute variation and can be seen with the naked eye.

As for investment, this is a matter of personal opinion which I do not think you can honestly say what the future holds as this would only be your personal opinion and who knows what the future holds for anything? When you stop and think of an investment, what is a guarantee? Perhaps you can advise me.

Paul Serabian
Providence, R. I.

I wish to say that I like your publication very much and feel that it answers my needs better than any of the other four coin magazines which I am taking at the present time. Congratulations to you for meeting a real need of coin collectors everywhere!

Mrs. Daisy L. Hayes
Wichita, Kansas

Here is my renewal for another two years plus a bonus subscription to a collector friend for a year. How glad I am that you started a weekly coin paper. It gets bigger and bigger with each issue. You get the latest news this way and so you keep up to date on what is going on. The monthly coin magazines seem way behind by the time they arrive.

Kent Kidder
Bradford, Vermont

Enclosed find my check for $5.00 to renew my subscription for 102 weeks plus a bonus subscription to a friend for a year. I want to say that of all the numismatic papers I take, I get more pleasure reading Coin World than all the others put together.

Roy E. Smith

COIN WORLD NEEDS CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING MANAGER!

The tremendous acceptance of the Classified Concept introduced by Coin World with 86 different classifications has created a new position on the staff. The Classified Word and Display Advertising Department now needs a manager!

We are seeking a man or woman who has had some experience in selling and writing of Classified Advertising as well as a knowledge of numismatic terms and understanding of what the customer is trying to say in sending in his ads.

This will be a full-time position and can not be handled as part-time work from another community. We believe this position has a real future and a "plus" attraction in that you would be getting paid for doing your hobby. Few people have that experience in this life! You would move to Sidney, Ohio.

We would expect any applicant to furnish two references whom we may contact as to his or her numismatic knowledge and background plus two references as to his or her experience as a newspaper classified worker. The salary is open and will be dependent upon experience and qualifications. Interested persons should write a resume, giving personal data and ask any questions of their own to . . .

BUSINESS MANAGER 'COIN WORLD'

P. O. Box 150 Sidney, Ohio

of Coin World, you printed a very interesting list of mintages of coins of the world. The list was supposed to contain all coins minted from 1950 to 1958 with under 1,000,000 struck. Why then did you leave out the United States coins? Certainly the U. S. is part of the world!

I am speaking specifically of the Booker T. Washington and George W. Carver half dollars minted until 1954. There are 23 different dates and mint marks on these halves with a mintage of under one million and the only exception is the 1952-P with 2,006,292. Don't you think that these coins deserve recognition in the table?

Stephen D. Ruddell
Arlington, Va.

(Editor's note: Thanks for calling attention to my error. I completely overlooked the U. S. commemorative coins. However, we are carrying them weekly now in our Coin Trends page so perhaps you'll forgive us?)

From all the talk and ads about the 1960 small date cent, a person would think the world would have to wait until now to start the world on coin collecting.

Harry L. Cohn
Altoona, Pa.

Here's my renewal for two years. I don't know when I have enjoyed a paper as much as I do Coin World and I read it all through every week! I hope you are able to keep up the good work!

John W. Deegan
Alamogordo, N. M.

Just a few lines to let you know how much I appreciate "Coin Trends" as it is a most interesting feature and one on which you are to be congratulated. My interest is completely academic because I am one of that genus rarus—a set collector and not a speculator. But it is like watching the stock market, even when you hold only a small block of shares!

Clement Fisher Jr.
Oakland 8, Calif.

Please accept my heartiest congratulations on a job well done in the field of numismatic publications. As a subscriber and reader of five such journals and magazines, I have come to the conclusion that the others have their place but it's your weekly that I really look forward to getting each week.

Vito Di Palo
Chatham, N. J.

There have been remarks made that dealers are advertising circulated coins and what do they mean by circulated coins? Well, I sell those coins but I wish to inform the buying public that what I sell is not mutilated, corroded, deeply scratched because I do not buy coins in that condition. I try to keep prices as low as possible and by not grading, I save time and save the customer money in turn.

M. Simon
Bronx, N. Y.

I have subscribed to many coin magazines and papers during the past 25 years and I must say that your paper is by far the best that I have read. It covers everything from the old coins to the new roll craze.

From what I have seen, there is no other numismatic magazine or newspaper that can compare with your weekly newspaper. I have seen your advertisement for (Continued on Page 45) many drawers. And there are many of those in Taylor's large rambling home. The central point of his house "where all the thinking is done" is a small den with a large leather-covered chair and sofa.

Here also is the spot from which Taylor makes his knowledge available to others through articles for Canadian and American newspapers and magazines such as Coin World, Numismatic Scrapbook and the Canadian Numismatic Association Journal.

He is also the author, in collaboration with Somer James, of two publications, the latest, The Guide Book of Canadian Coins, Paper Currency and Tokens appeared last spring. "I did it on a cost basis for my friend James," he said. They have just finished a third book.

It is the uncirculated coin the collector prizes most, Taylor explained. The degree of usage determines its "condition," and consequently, its market value. Supply and demand is the other important factor conferring value to coins, he said. Collectors acquire them by purchase from dealers with the help of catalogues. According to Taylor relatively little trading takes place between collectors.

A type of coinage which until a few years ago did not attract much attention is tokens, pieces of metal intended for currency and issued at a face value in excess of their real value. Taylor told of the origin of tokens in Canada, when around 1800, because of a currency shortage, merchants began issuing and circulating them.

They were accepted as change in the communities and surrounding areas. But tokens bearing unknown identifications and poorly made ones were refused by women who went to market and in this way, women's influence on These communion tokens are from the collection of H. C. Taylor, of Middlegate, Canada. They were probably brought to Canada by Scottish settlers—the tokens were used as an indication members could approach the communion table in Scotland, a custom that came to Canada along with the settlers.

currency exchange was considerable, said Taylor.

By the year 1858, with its first issuance of money, the Government of Canada withdrew token money at a cost of ten million dollars.

Even some churches, particularly the Presbyterian denomination in Scotland, used tokens. They were indications members could approach the communion table. Discretion as to their distribution was left in the hands of the elder or the minister. Scottish settlers in Canada brought them over and even reproduced them, as they did some of the churches left behind in the mother country.

A few oddities in Taylor's collection are delicately painted porcelain gambling tokens from 18th century Siam; an 1873 peso from Mexico covered with Chinese "chop" marks—indentations made on the coin each time it passed into a new hand in China; full weighted British and American trade dollars (they must have their full metallic content to be accepted in the Orient) coins bearing the effigy of Maria Theresa of Austria (still a trusted coin in the Orient and Africa); and mutilated English coins telling how before the Elizabethan period rogues made a practice of breaking off silver from currency and accumulating the precious metal for their own benefit.

In Winnipeg there are dozens of serious collectors according to Taylor. But "I'm afraid a lot of the present coin collecting is done for speculation," he said. It is only in the last 10 years the hobby has spread across the country.

Two or three hundred dollars in rolls of coin today could easily double in value after five years. However as Mr. Taylor pointed out, the money doesn't produce interest and in a few years no one knows whether the hobby will still be popular and whether there will be interested purchasers. Of course the coins would still have their basic value, they are as sound as Canada itself.

A coin club exists in Winnipeg, founded in 1954, of which Mr. Taylor is a charter member and president of the Manitoba Coin club. Its 150 members gather regularly in the Free Press board rooms. Here they expect to do a certain amount of trading, and talks are given on any matter relating to this nation-wide hobby.

Christopher Columbus Honored On Currency Of Land He Found

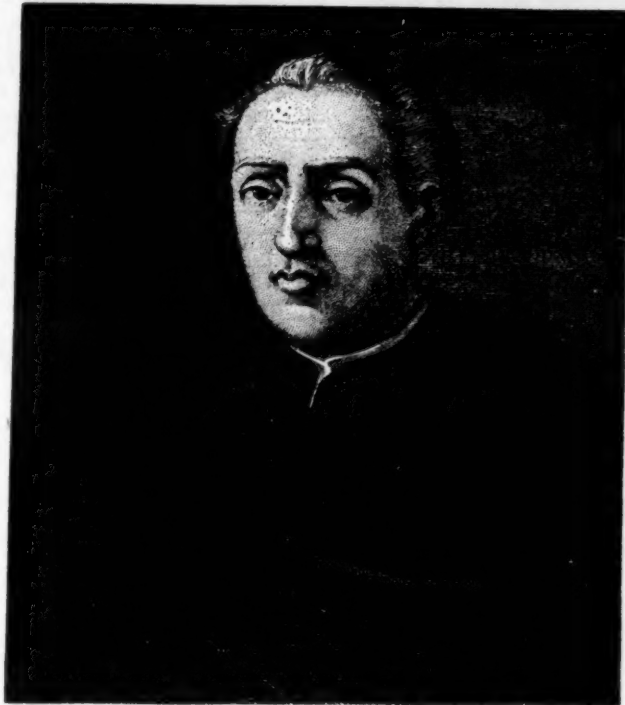

Christopher Columbus was familiar with the gold and silver coinage of Ferdinand V of Aragon and his wife, Isabella of Castile but he probably never visualized that some day he would be the subject of new world currency.

His landing and Columbus in sight of land are two artist concepts to be found on the 1863-1875 series of five dollar bank notes, first charter period.

Presentation of famous paintings in the form of currency marked the first charter period as one of real attraction for the collector.

After a fashion Columbus was money-minded—he suffered great disappointment because he did not return to Spain with great caches of gold and jewels.

He set out on his historic voyage August 3, 1492, after convincing Queen Isabella that the world was round and that he could reach the Indies by sailing westward.

Christopher Columbus

It was October 11 when they landed on San Salvador and opened the way to the new world which was to hold more riches than Columbus could ever conceive.

One story from the pages of history depicts Columbus in a less mercenary light—it is told that he was so overjoyed with Queen Isabella's promise to finance his trip he promised to give all the profits of the enterprise to the recovery of the holy sepulchre at Jerusalem from the unbelievers.

Early historian describe Husband Ferdinand as "colder-hearted and more calculating" than his wife but wrote that he could not withhold his consent to the arrangements.

The Columbus in his garb as a Spanish admiral is a handsome figure on the United States currency, a far cry from the balding, gray Columbus with pensive eyes and melancholy spirit who was returned to Spain in chains.

Contemporaries of Columbus described him at the peak of his career in a different light—he was a man of middle height with courteous manners and noble bearing. His face was oval with a pleasing expression, his nose aquiline, eyes blue, the complexion fair and inclined to ruddiness. The hair was red although it became gray soon after he was 30.

This group of intent collectors is assembled for the Peoria, Illinois, District Coin Club's auction, held at the Hotel Pere Marquette. They are studying the catalog and listening to Ray Janusick, of Lstant, Ill., the auctioneer at his microphone. Approximately $46,000 worth of coins and currency were sold at the week-end auction. William Ulrich, of Minneapolis, Minn., paid $2,600 for a 1915 Panama Pacific round. A $20 gold piece, struck in 1861, almost went for $12,000!

$12,000 Coin Bid Is $500 Short

A rare $20 gold coin, struck in 1861, one of only five known to exist, narrowly missed being sold for $12,000 at the Peoria, Illinois, District Coin club auction in the Hotel Pere Marquette in Peoria.

Its owner, Harold L. LaConte, 151 Brookview street, East Peoria, refused to sell the coin for less than $12,500. Experts appraise it at $20,000, LaConte said.

Its prospective buyer, Bernard Seasons, 4808 North Bigelow street, Peoria, who bid $12,000, the top price at the auction bidding, refused to go up the additional $500.

LaConte said he plans to take the coin to a New York auction next year. He acquired the piece from a coin dealer in Decatur at an undisclosed price about three months ago. LaConte said that it is the finest coin in his collection.

Convention officials were Robert Bechtel, Forrest Curtis, Robert Whitmore, Paul Young, Terry Stauske, Robert Bullock Sr., Robert Bullock Jr.

The auction's total sales were approximately $46,800, according to Robert Bullock, club publicity chairman.

He pronounced the auction an outstanding success, and said that the club's fourth annual auction was one of the biggest ever.

The auction attracted an estimated 2,500 coin dealers and collectors from many states.

Twenty dealers set up their sales table in the hotel upper lobby area and did brisk business on items ranging as low as 10 cents per coin ("your choice") up to hundreds of dollars.

One rare coin on display, valued at $20,000, was listed as not for sale.

It was a 1913 Liberty head nickel owned by J. V. McDermott, Milwaukee, Wis.

The club hired two city policemen and four insurance detectives to protect the valuable coins on display.

The highest price brought by a single coin in the auction was $2,600 paid by William Ulrich of Minneapolis, Minn. for a 1915 gold $50 coin issued for the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

An 1849 Mormon $5 gold piece brought $355.

Ray Janusick of Lstant, Ill., a professional auctioneer, kept up an almost non-stop flow of bidding on the 500 lots (lots include both single coins and groups or collections) of coins offered for sale.

He sold 200 lots during the Saturday auction. On Sunday the remaining 300 lots were sold.

Exhibit winners at the show included Earl Hoverton, first; Harold LaConte, second, and Charles Amery, third. All three reside in Peoria.

New Division Gimbels Opens

A new coin collectors' section combined with a stamp department has been opened in the new Gimbels Garden State Plaza store in Paramus, New Jersey.

A highlight of the opening was the exhibition of the world famous "Bouquets and Brickbats" collection formed by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The new enterprise will feature an excellent stock of United States, world-wide sets, and a complete selection of quality packets, stamp outfits, catalogs, literature and accessories.

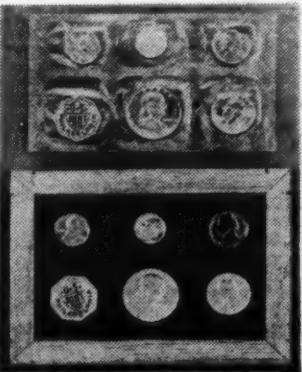

The public is invited to visit and browse through the large, modern facility. Service will be handled by experienced collectors who understand the needs of amateur and professional coin and stamp enthusiasts.

Trends Of Today's Coin Values

Numismatic Material Active, Rolls Slower

By Jim Kelly

333 W. First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

Jim Kelly

Numismatic interest, and consequently business, has picked up considerably since the beginning of the fall season. With vacations over and a record number of conventions scheduled for this fall, every indication points to the coin business reaching an all-time high. Starting with the national convention in Boston and up to the present time, business has shown one definite trend. Coins and other material considered as numismatic items, particularly early U. S. coins in choice condition, are in great demand and consequently prices have not only stayed at the high level of the spring season but are actually advancing in price.

This is also true, though in a more modest way, of the later U. S. sets in uncirculated and proof condition. Equally as pointed is the downward trend of many of the rolls, particularly the later issues which were dealt in large quantities.

Unless there is a new crop of investment buyers, or unless those who already own large quantities start buying to protect their own investments, it seems inevitable that this material will continue to decline in price.

I should add that this does not pertain to all rolls as some of the scarce issues were never available in large enough quantities to interest the investment buyer. This material never advanced in price proportionately to its rarity and will hold its value much better in the buyers market than the rolls which were highly speculative.

During the past several weeks the real weakness in the roll investment market has made itself clear, this being the investor's inability to dispose of large quantities at a reasonable price when there is a slow market. Paper profits are nice to talk about but hard to deposit.

Tommy Ryan Turns Talents To World Of Numismatics

Tommy Ryan buys and sells rare coins and collections. In fact, he's so successful he has opened a new shop in the heart of Chicago's loop, 50 West Washington.

Numismatics is the latest of Tommy's accomplishments — his talents are myriad!

He has operated a successful restaurant chain. He was so outstanding in theatrics that he played in both the Broadway and Hollywood versions of "Top Banana" with Comic Phil Silvers.

(Incidentally, he rates Phil Silvers ace high, says he's as funny off stage as he is on.....)

Tommy's talents as a comic and a singer has sent him all over the country in night club and television work. He left behind him a trail of good friends on a first-name basis — Silvers, Van Johnson, Vaughn Monroe, Bob Chester, Ilona Massey, just to mention a few.

A dedicated family man, Tommy, however, sought a vocation that could allow him to remain in one place — and when someone handed him an 1871 Indian head cent three years ago, he was off in a hobby that soon become a business.

He conducted a mail order business prior to the opening of his Loop shop.

"Business is wonderful...fantastic," he enthused as he commented upon the grand opening of his shop.

Good Will Coin Offer Is Made

Want two Swedish coins—uncirculated one ore copper and 10 ore silver—just for the mint stamps (unused stamps with gum) to pay return postage to the United States of America?

Axel Miltander, columnist in Linn's Weekly Stamp News (Scandinavian Area Philatelic Activity) and editor of the philatelic and numismatic page of the Gotesborgs-Posten, second biggest newspaper in Sweden, makes such an offer.

Recently he offered the two coins free of cost to readers of Linn's in order to increase the interest of Scandinavian coins in the United States, and now he is repeating the offer for Coin World readers. It is estimated 10c in mint stamps should be sent.

"I think that correspondence over the borders is the fresh blood in all hobbies, and the real reason why philately is so popular," said Columnist Miltander.

"If we can do the same thing about coins I think the interest will increase very much," the Swedish numismatic writer said.

His numismatic-philatelic page appears in Gotesborgs-Posten on Sundays; it has a circulation of about 230,000.

There are two big philatelic societies in Gothenburg, according to Miltander. "Our numismatic society is not so big, but it seems to me to be coming," he said. "Much of it can depend upon our writings about coins every Sunday.

"I also think interest for coins in general is growing up just now. One month ago the Numismatic society of Gothenburg had 33 members—now it is 50, the secretary told me. If it continues to grow in such a rapid tempo it will be at least 100 members before springtime! I suppose you have made the same observations in the United States."

Columnist Miltander's address is:

CARSON CITY MORGAN DOLLARS
All Strictly Uncirculated

The 1885 Carson City Dollar with a mintage of only 228,000 is the fourth smallest mintage of all Silver Dollars from 1878 to 1935. To own one of these in strictly brilliant uncirculated condition for only $15.00 is one of the scarce coins all collectors should have; and to own a roll of 20 with an investment of only $225.00 should not be overlooked by all investment minded collectors.

For comparison the 1889-CC Dollar, total mintage of 350,000, is now selling for $150.00 each; the 1892-CC Dollar, mintage over one million is selling for more than $20.00 each; and the 1879-CC Dollar, with 756,000, has a price tag of about $85.00.

My Special Price for the set of six 1880 to 1885 is $59.50. The proof-like CC Dollars listed below have a beautiful mirrored field. Please keep in mind that all these Dollars are strictly Brilliant Uncirculated Coins and the ten different dates listed below are certainly well behind the spectacular rise in price of most desirable coins in the past year.

Americans Fly Abroad For Big Sales In October

By Hans M. F. Schulman

The coin season has fully started and the list of conventions and auction sales is growing day by day. We have been informed that the October sales in Europe are of such importance that several Americans are flying over. Let me repeat again—October 12 is the celebrated Calico sale at Glendinning's of London of South American and Spanish doubloons and their divisions.

October 25, Adolph Hess in Lucerne has a magnificent gold sale with a large Spanish and

Hans Schulman

Spanish American collection which includes the famous provisional 1870 and the 1871 Amadeus 100 pesetas, both in perfect condition. Also a 4 pistole of Besancon and large gold coins of Flanders are included in the group.

Cousin Jacques Schulman's fall sale of the beautiful Dutch collection of Dr. Dunlop has not been scheduled for a date yet.

The Baldwins of London are sponsoring another Lockett sale in October. The French and Germans have not advised us yet of their expected auctions.

Saturday afternoon, November 19, at the Waldorf the celebrated collection of Howard D. Gibbs English siege and counterstamps will be sold under the auspices of your writer and in the morning a miscellaneous sale of ancient coins, Congo art, U.S. minor coins and medals will keep the collectors occupied until the Gibbs collection sale starts at 1:30 p.m.

The famous yearly Kreisberg-Schulman auction will be held on February 16, 17 and 18, 1961. Stacks are opening the American season with a fantastic sale: the Holmes collection. The impressive and attractively bound catalog lists over 1500 foreign gold coins set for sale October 5-7.

Personal news: Bobby Page just about above water from diving for sunken treasures off the Bahamas! Wait till you see what he found.....!

David Spink just returned to London. Regards to readers of Coin World from Louis Horowitz who found a very rare U.S. coin when he received his change in a Copenhagen restaurant.

Goeffrey Hearn of London telephoned from the airport on his way to London. He got in serious trouble with a girl named Donna in Miami. Donna almost blew off the top of the house he stayed in and kept him from leaving for home as all flights were cancelled.

This eerie form of money—a Congolese mask—was used by the Congo natives only decades ago for money in exchange for goods, according to Hans Schulman. The mask is highly revered by the Congolese, and it was because of this high value that it was used as money.

Sol Kaplan promises surprises for foreign coin collectors when M.A.N.A. convention starts.

New price records on foreign coins at the Boston convention included 60 pesos, 1915, Mexico—$1,800.00; 5 zloty, 1925 silver mission, Poland—$275.00; Silver gantug rouble, Russia—$175.00; Russia 12, six, three roubles, platinum in brilliant proof—$1,250.00.

Platinum catalog: as promised our readers we will list all platinum coins issued as per type.

1. 12 roubles, 1830-1845.
2. 6 roubles, 1825-1845.
3. 3 roubles, 1823-1845.
4. Coronation medals, 1826 in different sizes and weight.
5. Coronation token, 1826, 22mm.
6. 1/2 rouble, 1826.
7. 1 krone, 1914.
8. 4 Kreuzer, 1868.
9. 5 taler, 1848.
10. 2 mark pattern, 1913.

Panhandle Club Project Is A Success

The Panhandle Coin Club of Chadron, Nebraska, took top fundraising honors in the celebration of the city's diamond jubilee. Harold Clark, general chairman of the celebration committee, announced.

The coin club turned in $1,695.97, the money realized from the club's commemorative coin project.

Coin Club members sold the specially designed commemorative coins — the work of Frank Schell — for 50 cents in bronze.

Relatively few were turned in for redemption, the coin club committee observed, indicating that most purchasers kept them as souvenirs of the celebration.

The nearly $1,700 turned in by the Panhandle Coin Club represented the largest single amount raised by any one organization or group, according to Ed Weis, executive chairman of the event.

Private Gold Coinage Program Topic

The romantic days of '49 in California along with other pioneer adventures were relived by members of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society at their September 28 meeting, held at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, San Francisco.

"Private Gold Coinage" was the program topic with A.N.A. slides shown on private gold issues of California and other states. David Redfield operated the projector. Exhibits were also featured at this session.

At the August meeting Mrs. Mabel Patterson gave a talk on medals and decorations and displayed an outstanding exhibit of her collection.

William Smith, Earl Parker and Denzil Goble were among the members who attended the American Numismatic Association meeting in Boston with Earl Parker giving a short resume of the activities.

Members were urged to hurry and turn in papers for the con-

Charter memberships are now going out in the mail, Walters said. Machinery to incorporate the new organization will be set in motion soon; Walters will hold office along with two other officials. Purpose of the association is to protect and assist dealers with a series of services.

test now in progress; the end of October is the deadline.

The October meeting of the club has been advanced to the 19th instead of the 26th to accommodate members who wish to attend the convention in San Diego on the 27th. The October meeting will be called "other hobbies night."

Clifford L. Liss is president of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society; Milton C. Strauch, vice president; Mrs. Harry Cutler, recording and corresponding secretary; Paul D. Snedaker, treasurer; H. F. Bowker, librarian; F. E. Howard, Robert C. Patterson, David L. Redfield and Lesley G. Lodge, board of governors.

Carolina Show October 7, 8 In Asheville Hotel

An elaborate display of gold at the First Union National Bank, 11 Church street, Asheville, N. C., is attracting much attention and promoting the North Carolina Coin Club's Association's second annual convention.

The conclave is being held October 7-8 at the George Vanderbilt Hotel in Asheville, according to J. W. B. Bason, chairman, of Greensboro.

The gold display was arranged through the courtesy of the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank.

The association's convention promises to attract several hundred regional collectors and dealers and an interesting auction will be under the direction of B. C. Sayers Jr., Johnson City, Tenn.

New York Cities Band Together To Form Club

The Triple Cities Coin Club, of Binghamton, Endicott, and Johnson City, New York, will have the E.S.N.A. Spring Convention in 1962. Its first annual national coin week exhibit and auction was held on April 24, with a large crowd making it a big success. Individual club members visit other clubs occasionally.

Dinners or family type picnics are held. The club was established in January, 1938. It has 71 regular members. It meets the first and third Tuesday of each month except in June, July and August, when no first Tuesday meetings are held.

It meets at 8 p.m. at the Johnson City Moose Club Auditorium, 19 Arch street. Officers are elected in December.

Fred Hunter, Binghamton, is president; Tom Novobilski, Johnson City, is vice president; Paul Christensen, Endicott, is treasurer; and Robert R. Hailey, Endicott, is secretary.

Iowa Paper Tags Coin Collecting Fastest Growing Hobby In America

"Because of the great interest in coin collecting, the Sunday Times-Democrat, Davenport-Bettendorf, Iowa, will start a weekly coin column, to be written by Walter Green, of Davenport," the paper declared recently.

Green will combine his stamp column with numismatics and it will be known as "Stamps and Coins."

In discussing the new column, the Sunday Times-Democrat points out that coin collecting, once a scholarly pleasure of a few, has become America's fastest growing hobby.

There are about five million serious collectors in the country, and nearly 1,000 of them are in the Quad-City area, Iowa dealers estimate.

Because of the recent increase in interest, a peculiar fact is beginning to be obvious:

It's not just scarce coins that are valuable these days. Every coin is gaining in value among the collectors.

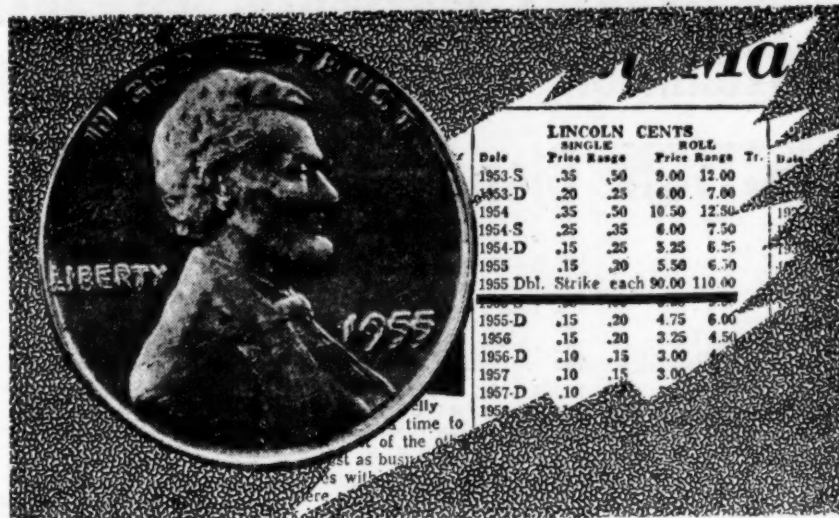

"I'd say that about one-third of all coin collectors are in it to make money, not just to enjoy themselves," says Walt Green of Davenport, Iowa, a part-time dealer in coins.

"It's something like the stock market. If everybody wants to buy, the prices go up. If they're all selling, the prices go down."

Green's reference to the stock market isn't merely for illustration. He said numismatists everywhere are talking about a new weekly newspaper called "Coin World" which carries full page of weekly coin market price ranges.

This "Dow-Jones" of the coin world lists all the domestic pieces commonly traded, the present price range at which each is being advertised, and the trend up or down in price if a trend is indicated.

"This is a funny business," com-

This double strike cent, minted in 1955, with a Coin World Trends background, was used recently in an Iowa newspaper, the Sunday Times-Democrat, to promote the hobby of coin collecting, and its new coin column. The story indicated the cent ments Frank Minor, of Moline, Ill., one of the Quad-Cities' biggest coin dealers.

"People develop a kind of panic if they decide that some coin is going to be scarce. They'll buy it at almost any price. That's why it's important to know your coins well, or know a dealer you can trust."

One of the reasons for the sudden surge in coin collecting is the now-famous 1960 small-date cent, Minor believes.

"That coin got so much publicity in the past few months that folks who never collected before are getting interested."

One Iowa man who knew his coins capitalized spectacularly on the small-date cent, according to Charles Lindburg, who operates a coin-stamp shop in Davenport.

"This man bought 40 bags of those 1960 small dates," Lindburg relates, "and held them for six months. When he sold them, he got 10 times the price he paid — each bag cost him $50, but he sold each one for $500."

It's easy, though, for the amateur collector to make costly mistakes, Minor cautions.

"Nearly all dealers are reliable and honest. They have to be, because no customer will come back to a dealer whose advice wasn't good or who sold him a false coin."

"But there are a few people who make good money falsifying coins. When it comes to fakes, I've seen some real beauties."

One of the most common tricks, he says, is to take a 1944-D cent and chip the first "4" into a "1." The 1914-D cent, which the coin thus resembles, sells for about $100 in extremely fine condition.

"Dental technicians or skilled jewelers sometimes can do such a good job in falsifying coins that there isn't one scratch to give them away," he adds.

Unlike stamp collectors who get their prizes from all over the world, coin collectors generally confine themselves to domestic pieces, Minor said.

is worth $110, that 20,000 of the coins were struck and dealers sell them from $90 to $110 depending upon condition. This coin is owned by Dealer Charles Lindburg, Davenport, Iowa.

"Foreign coins aren't of special importance to most Americans," Minor explains. "They don't circulate except in their own country, so it's difficult to collect them here."

But when it comes to the products of American mints, there isn't much that collectors aren't interested in.

"The new weekly paper, 'Coin World,' began less than six months ago, but its circulation already has topped 23,000."

"Coins are coming into their own," Green explains. "Basically, we're all collectors of one sort or another — antiques, books, stamps or something else."

Minor believes the "gold rush" from 1955 to 1958 the hobby picked up speed. And 1958 was a real boom year, with the number of collectors almost doubling.

How do you get started? the story queried. By just starting, dealers agree—watching for interesting coins in general circulation, filling inexpensive folders according to dates and mints, asking began back in 1954. Then, he says, questions of dealers and other collectors.

Joining a club of coin fans makes collecting more fun and easier to learn. The Tri-City Coin Club, which meets monthly in Rock Island, Ill., has an average attendance of more than 100 members.

Beginners should be careful in their investments, professional collectors say. Money can be made in coins, but it also can be lost by unwise speculation.

"It's a disease," smiles Frank Minor. "Once you get into this business, you're hooked."

PROOF SETS

Last week I was off on some prices, so I'll try again. I did not get enough buyers, only sellers who wanted to peddle hundreds of large and small date 1960 proofs. My finances allow purchases of only small lots of proofs so don't expect me to buy in 100's, etc.

I will open all brown envelopes or cardboard boxes before buying or selling!

	Sell	Buy	Sell	Buy
1960 sm.	$25.50	$20.50	1955	11.50
1960 lg.	4.75	3.85	1954	11.50

1957	4.60	3.75	1951	28.50
1956	7.25	6.00	1950	47.25

I will accept any proof set in trade on merchandise, but please confirm first on trades over $20.

FOLKS...

I want to thank everyone for bearing with me! My store was under water for over a week as a result of the hurricane, and many orders were delayed. Also, in my last Coin World ad, I advertised some one-shot items very cheaply, and had to return a lot of checks.

Coin World ads are so cheap, I can afford a big ad with only one or a few of each to sell.

Understand, I held nothing back at the prices in my last ad. Anything in this ad was either un-ordered or I have bought some more since.

Flying Horse Symbol Old

Nothing new under the sun says Kalvart K. Tidwell, Waco, Texas, as he poses beneath a gasoline firm symbol of the flying red horse with a silver stater of Corinth, minted with the divine flying horse, Pegasus, on the obverse in 300 B. C. Numismatist Tidwell displayed the silver stater, brought to him from Europe by Mr. and Mrs. William Sloane earlier this year, at the opening of a new service station in Waco where it drew considerable interest.

Paper Money Is Theme Of Club Meeting

"Paper Money of the United States—1861 to 1923—was the program topic for members of the Evansville, Ind., Coin Club, meeting in the auditorium room of St. Paul's Church September 25.

Bettye Klauss, Civil War scholar, artist, enthusiastic and energetic member of the club, presented the talk and illustrated it with A.N.A. slides.

Exhibit of the month was a display of bills presented in the talk including the first "greenback of 1861," legal tender note, silver certificate, refunding certificate, Federal Reserve Bank note, etc.

Four members presented "My Favorite Coin" as a program feature. The special prize was the book "Paper Money of the United States" by Friedberg. There was an auction at the close of the session.

Beginners Have Greatest Opportunities And Thrills

Special awards in the Canadian Bulletin Article contest recently announced went to W. H. Barber, Montreal, Quebec, for his article, "Prospects Are Still Unlimited," and to another story, "A Word From A Novice," whose author wishes to remain anonymous.

Barber's story appeared in the February, 1960, edition of the Bulletin, published by Marles and Co., Calgary, Canada; the Novice discussion is from a December, 1959, edition.

The special award stories are

PROSPECTS ARE STILL UNLIMITED

By W. H. Barber

As a collector of coins, I only entered the field some three years ago and as I have been most fortunate particularly with regard to dimes, I thought you might be interested in hearing of my progress.

Sometimes, one tends to feel that the possibilities of collecting or acquiring rare coins are few and far between, but, fortunately, this has not been my experience.

In the last three years, I have managed to find all the Canadian dimes minted since 1858, with the exception of the 1871H and 1872H and, of course, the 1936 dot.

It might be interesting to newcomers in the field of numismatics to know that I have been fortunate in finding an 1889 dime V.G. and two 1893 round tops; one in fine condition and one poor. Besides this, I also have an 1884 in V.G. and two 1875's, one poor and one merely a space filler.

I am fortunate, of course, in that the company I work for operates a considerable number of coin-operated vending machines, which has given me opportunity in the winter months when I have a few moments to spare.

However, this same opportunity is available to everyone, if they wish to avail themselves of purchasing rolls from the bank or making contacts with companies or people who handle large amounts of silver.

You might be interested to know that a recent appraisal of my collection of dimes valued them at $1950.00 and not one of them has been purchased.

A WORD FROM A NOVICE

Less than two years ago I had a desultory interest in coins. I must have had about twenty dollars worth of silver, large pennies and odd pieces (and to think I worked as a bank teller from 1942-1946!) One day I decided to buy a coin catalog then I saw the Canadian Bulletin advertised so I subscribed. And I was hooked!

Now though my collection of coins is still negligible I find myself a rich woman. I have been more or less confined to the house for a long time — first with illness in the family and now with my own temporary incapacity, thus the days are pretty long and tedious, or rather they would have been — had it not been for my interest in coins. Believe me, my collection has helped the hour fly.

I have met and had interesting and informative conversations with strangers and made friends out of former acquaintances who are interested in collecting. It seems that just about everybody has a few coins tucked away.

I have started some small boys collecting by giving them Whitman folders and they in turn have caused other small boys to take an interest. Every so often they phone me or come see me to ask information on what to look out for (we haven't any children of our own, so this is fun).

I may never find a 1936 dot ten cent but my life has been immeasurably enriched by my hobby and I expect it to become more so.

Old Spanish Trail Half Dollar Bears Strange Symbol On Obverse

The old Spanish trail commemorative half dollar, 1935-1935, struck in observance of the famous exploration from St. Augustine, Fla., to what is now El Paso, Texas, features a strange and somewhat argumentative obverse. Honoring the 12,000-mile trip of the Conquistadores four centuries earlier, the obverse bears the head or skull of a cow.

This cow's skull is a literal translation of the name of the man who led the trip down the Spanish trail—Cabeza de Vaca, according to L. W. Hoffecker, designer and distributor of the commemorative half dollar.

De Vaca, in turn, received the literal meaning of his name from the time of the Moors:

A shepherd known as Martin Alhaja pointed out to his king, who was fighting the Moors, that there was a hidden pass in the mountains that would greatly facilitate his campaign.

The king led his Spanish army through the pass, and wiped out the Mohammedans.

A cow's skull was the insignia with which the mountain passes were marked for the information of the Spanish soldiers. The king to commemorate the shepherd's great assistance changed his family name to Cabeza de Vaca which means "cow's skull."

The Texans were quick to capitalize upon the coin's symbol by assuming it represented the famous Texas long horn steers.

The commemorative coin turns attention, too, to the oldest city in the United States—St. Augustine, founded in 1565, by a ruthless Spaniard, Pedro Menendez, who found it necessary to kill 142 men, women and children in order to especially wiped out the French colony. He hauled back the escaping Frenchmen and hanged them. Over the head of each he had inscribed: "I do this, not as to Frenchmen, but as to Lutherans."

A few years later the French and Indians joined forces and wiped out the Spaniards. They showed the Spaniards no mercy either, and over their hanging bodies, the French wrote:

"I do this not as unto Spaniards and Maranes (Moors) but as unto traitors, robbers and murderers."

that it has been plated with some light colored metal. The plating may be zinc," the Mint executive said.

Acting Director Howard weighed the coin and examined it with a powerful glass before making the declaration.

Mrs. Gieder spotted the silver cent in a cafeteria cash register at the Justice department recently and obtained it with dispatch because she thought it was a rarity.

After rejecting offers for the coin, Mrs. Rieder was relieved of it by two Secret Service men who had been advised by Justice Department counsel that the coin was not legally issued.

After Acting Director Howard's examination, the coin was returned to Mrs. Gieder with the ruling that since no one could pass the cent for a dime (the Lincoln profile a dead giveaway) it could remain in her possession.

Mrs. Geider has not committed herself as to what she will do with the headline-garnering cent—but she's going to continue watching her change.

She needs two coins to complete her collection of Indian head cents.

This beautiful new item is made of the finest quality smoky glass into which is impressed in genuine PLATINUM, an assortment of reproductions of U. S. coins. They look so real that you would be tempted to try and pick them up from the tray.

This item has been examined by the United States Treasury Department and has been declared perfectly legal to offer for sale and manufacture and patents are now pending.

I have been appointed general distributor by the manufacturers and dealers' inquiries on their own letterheads are invited.

GIFT SUGGESTIONS

As the larger trays contain reproductions of 25 silver dollars, it is an ideal gift for a 25th wedding anniversary. Another arrangement for wall decorations is one of the large trays using four of the small 5x7 trays on each corner.

Of course a gift of 4-6 of the small oblong trays are always welcome to be used for Ash Trays, Nut Dishes or Deluxe Coasters.

One of the larger trays makes a real conversation piece as a center piece for your dining room table; their decorative uses are varied and many, and appeal to collector and non-collector alike!

GIFT SERVICE

We will pack and ship any of the above coin glass items to those you wish to receive them as business gifts, friends, anniversary, etc. All you have to do is to enclose your own card and we will do the rest.

Rye Issues Special Coins

October holds big days ahead for residents of the Rye, New York, area — an industrial, business, arts and science exposition was held October 2-6 at the Corpus Christi school gymnasium with 80 exhibitors participating. Warren Lewin and William L. Sniffin, co-chairmen of the city's Tercentenary celebration announce.

Earlier this year the Tercentenary committee had a special coin struck in commemoration of the observance—this souvenir money is good for 50 cents in trade throughout the community until October 10.

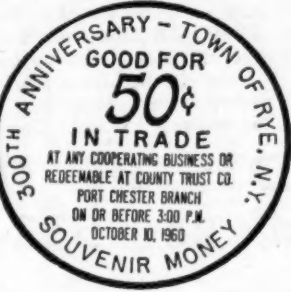

A commemorative plate has been issued, showing eight historic pictures of the community; there is also a 48-page history of the town of Rye being published for the exposition.

Honorary chairman of the celebration, Hon. Anthony J. Posillipo, calls attention to the slogan of the city—"founded on faith, growing on strength."

Events of the Tercentenary celebration began May 1 with a day of worship in all the churches of the community, thanking God for the many benefits received since the founding of the town 300 years ago.

On June 7, before 7,000 citizens, the Tercentenary queen, Miss Virginia Sheridan, daughter of past volunteer Chief Philip Sheridan, was crowned queen with members of her court, Veta Telasca, Carolyn Olson, Noell Sheehan and Judith Korman. Their selection came after two weeks of downtown balloting by citizens and over 17,000 ballots were cast.

On the 4th of July, the Tercentenary committee joined with the Independence day committee in their annual Fourth of July program.

The queen's banquet and ball were held on Saturday, September 24. A free symphony concert by the Westchester Symphony orchestra is planned for October 7.

A giant parade of progress is planned for Sunday, October 9, with 38 floats, 40 bands, thousands of marchers. To wind up the celebration, the committee will present in the senior high school auditorium the famous Broadway musical, "Of Thee I Sing."

The town of Rye is situated on the shores of Long Island Sound at the northeastern tip of Westchester county bordering the state of Connecticut.

In January of 1660, an agreement was signed between the Mohican Indians, who inhabited the territory now called the town of Rye, and a group of men from Greenwich, Conn.

This community, like so many in the pages of American history, had its struggles for survival, combating not only nations who sought to conquer, but also the ravages of disease, drought and the other perils of pioneer life. However, through it all, the settlement grew to be one of the finest towns in the state of New York. The present population shows over 30,000 residents.

The town contributed its share to every minor and major conflict in our country's history and many statues to the memory and honor of these men and women adorn the rolling countryside.

A friendly community of all races and religious beliefs gain their livelihood in many fine industries. Beechnut-Life Savers, Arnold Bakers, Empire Brushes, the nation's No. 1 brushmakers, and Russell, Burdall and Ward Bolt & Nut Company, the world's largest manufacturer of bolts and nuts, are just four of the largest in a community of 78 industries which employ over 8,000.

Shoppers can make their purchases in stores ranging from large department and chain food stores to intimate little shops. There is a fine school system, consisting of eight elementary schools, a junior high school and a senior high school. A volunteer fire department of 420 men protects the community from the ravages of fire and a 75-man police force is the guardian of people's rights and property.

Religious worship is available for everyone in a community of 35 churches of all denominations.

Albertins in Two Metals

Silver coins of Albert and Isabella of Austrian Netherlands were often called albertin. The coins were actually 2½ gulden and 50 patards. A gold coin of 1600-1601 has also been known as albertin.

Coin To Save Swedish Ship

A special commemorative coin has been minted in Sweden to pay for the salvage of the old ship, Wasa, an infamous vessel built for the Swedish Navy during the years 1626-1628 at Kapplingen, now Blasieholmen, in Stockholm by Henrik Hybertsson, a Dutch ship-builder. The Wasa was launched into Nybroviken and on August 10, 1628, set out on her maiden voyage—a voyage destined to end in disaster within a few minutes. A gust of wind blowing from the southern shore tipped the Wasa onto her side as she was passing Beckholmen on her way from Stockholm to join the mobilized Swedish fleet in the southern Baltic.

This catastrophe was due to a combination of unfortunate circumstances. It is possible that she was incorrectly designed, carried too much armament and was over-rigged. This naval tragedy attracted great attention throughout Europe.

During the 17th century several attempts were made to salvage the Wasa and the treasure believed to be on board. In 1660 a diving record was established when a salvage crew, using a primitive diving bell, recovered about 50 of the ship's cannon. As the years passed the Wasa was forgotten.

The wreck was rediscovered in 1956 by Anders Franzen and discussions were initiated concerning the possibility of salvaging the vessel.

However, it was not until 1958 that the difficult task of salvage could be started.

The salvaging of the Wasa provides Sweden with a unique cultural object. Apart from her great scientific value, the Wasa will no doubt be a great attraction to both Swedish and foreign tourists.

The Wasa commemorative coin is sold by Svenska Handelsbanken, Fack, Stockholm, 16, Sweden, for $2.50 postpaid.

The coin is minted in a quantity of 50,000 and is made of 92 per cent copper and eight per cent zinc. The weight is 15.90 grammes.

Persons who want the coin may order it directly from the bank; all proceeds go to the Wasa restoration committee.

Angsters Are Copper

Small copper coins carried by Swiss cantons during the 19th century were angsters. The cantons of Schwyz and Lucerne as well as those of one or two minor German localities carried these.

Nemecek Is Chairman Of Show

First announcement of the Oak Park, Illinois, Coin Club's fourth annual west suburban coin exhibit to be held Sunday, November 6, comes jointly from Irving Harris, the club president, and Walter Nemecek, general chairman of the event.

The show will be held at the Oak Park Arms Hotel, Oak Park avenue and Washington Boulevard, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

There will be exhibits of outstanding collections of coins, paper money, and other numismatic items. Dealers' bourse tables will be set up for patrons to buy and sell.

An auction of choice material will be conducted by two outstanding auctioneers: James K. Thompson of Bensenville, and Harold Klein of Hinsdale. The auction will start at 2 p.m. Lists are available at the hotel.

Last year's exhibit was considered a great success by more than 1500 members and guests who attended it. The committees in charge believe they have even better plans this year.

More and better arranged space has been secured in the Oak Park Arms hotel—all on the ground floor. The dining room and snack bar will be open for those who want meals during the day and evening.

There is no admission or other charge. "We believe you and your friends will enjoy visiting us and the other collectors who will attend. Souvenir wooden nickels will be given free upon registering, as long as supplies last," said President Harris and Chairman Nemecek.

Officers of the Oak Park Coin Club include Harris as president; James Grebinger, vice president; Sal T. Genualdi, secretary-treasurer; Glenn B. Smedley, governor; Harold Klein, and James K. Thompson, auctioneers.

Actor Uses German Pfennig For Subway

John Moore, television actor and former child star known as Dickie Moore, paid a $10 fine recently in Manhattan, New York, Arrest Court after pleading guilty to using a German pfennig instead of a token on the subway. Moore, who is 35 years old, was arrested at a turnstile in the Eighty-sixth street station of the Broadway IRT line at 8:40 a.m. by a Transit Authority detective.

COLLECTORS ATTENTION!

After running our ad on page 23 of this paper Sept. 9th and not receiving only 2 responses for 'Roosevelt commemoratives' seems rather amusing; it brings to light one of three facts: 1. Those folks that CLAIM THEY WANT to buy so much are only joking; or 2nd, are afraid some one else might make a nickel that they won't; or 3rd, they are not selling as much as they want folks to believe; because there are some good deals in our ad. One man advertises the same roll deal we did and wants $2677.00 against our $2400.00. The ad is still good. The trade ad on page 46 same issue is still good too.

Toledo, Ohio, Club To Celebrate 25th Birthday

The Toledo, Ohio, Coin Club is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year with a silver jubilee coin show and exhibit to be held on October 8 (10 a.m. to 11 p.m.) and October 9, (10 a.m. to 5 p.m.).

The new Globe Motor hotel at Jefferson and 11th street will be the site of this conclave, attracting dealers and collectors from a seven-state area.

Importance of this event is evident in a proclamation issued by the mayor of Toledo, Michael J. Damas, in which he urges the citizens of that community to visit the show.

He has designated October 8 and 9 officially as "Numismatic Week-end."

Show officials estimate exhibits and displays and dealer material will exceed one half million dollars in value. A 24 hour armed guard will provide security.

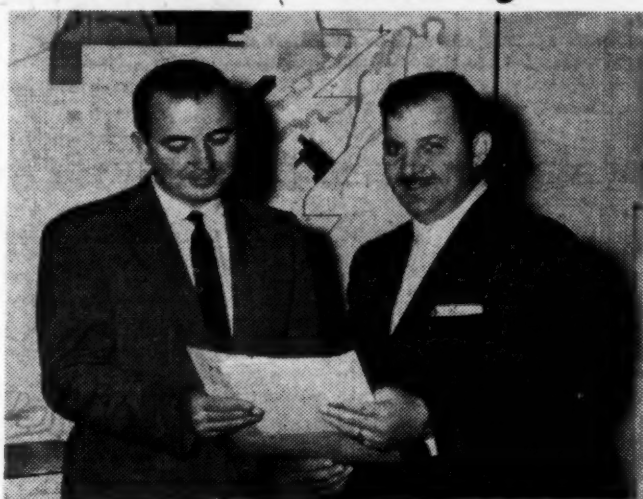

Among its active membership of more than one hundred, several individuals have received national recognition in the numismatic field. Ed Kaufman was appointed by the president of the United States to serve on his assay committee in 1948. C. C. Shroyer, the club's current president, also holds the office of first vice president in the American Numismatic Association.

The display committee has announced that Irving M. Moskovitz, nationally known Detroit expert, will display his unique gold, silver and platinum collection at the show. These coins have won acclaim and top honors for Moskovitz through out the country.

Also to be viewed will be mint errors and freak currency from the collection of Louise Nowak, wife of the show chairman, Ed Nowak. This phase of collecting has gained popularity in this area in recent years.

William (Bill) Hurrelbrink will have exhibits of broken bank notes, a complete set of large cents, and standing liberty quarters as well as other interesting coins.

The Toledo Museum of Art will honor the club with a special display of Byzantine and ancient coinage from its own collection.

Toledo's Mayor Michael J. Damas is shown here (right) presenting Ed Nowak, Toledo Coin Club's Silver anniversary show chairman, with the official proclamation naming October 8 and 9 as "numismatic week-end" in that Ohio city. Governor Michael DiSalle, former Toledo resident, has sent congratulations to the club, too.

play of Byzantine and ancient coinage from its own collection.

The Toledo Public Library will be showing a special group of coins from the collection of club member Stanley Szyperski for this occasion. The National Bank of Toledo will have a window display featuring material arranged by Mrs. Don Place.

Special "wooden nickel" souvenir pieces will be available for each person attending the show. Special prizes are to be distributed at regular intervals.

To open the show on October 8 the mayor of Toledo will be on hand and a special plaque containing an Unc. 1935 silver dollar will be presented to him. This last year of issue is also the founding date of the club.

Radio, newspaper and T.V. coverage are expected at the show. There will not be an auction this year to allow complete concentration on the display floor. Show registrations will be handled by the lady members.

Ken Dolbee, bourse chairman, announces a "full house" is expected. Dealers are to be hosted at a late buffet supper Saturday night.

Ed Nowak, general chairman of the show, has been assisted by the following committees:

Activities Of Schuylkill In Full Swing Now

The Schuylkill Stamp and Coin Club, Schuylkill Haven, Pa., has 73 regular members and two junior members. It meets the second Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. at the Lions building, Schuylkill Haven, Pa.

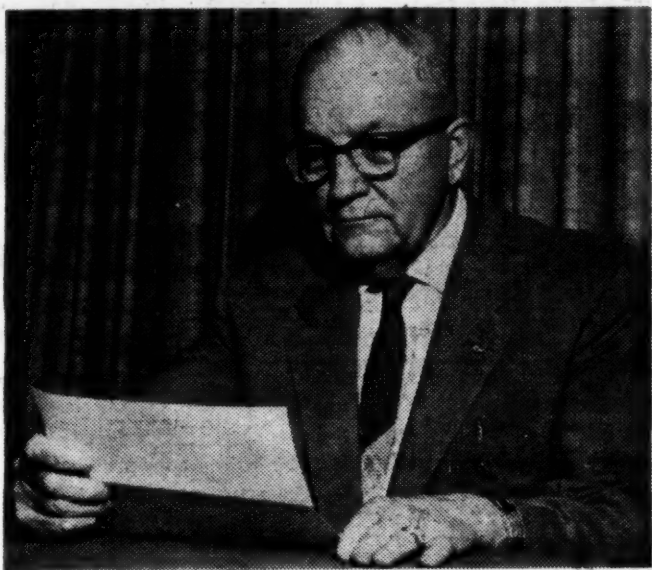

New officers are elected in December and take office in January. Arlin Fegley, Deer Lake, Pa., is president; Earl Eshelman, Pottsville, Pa., is vice president; A. T. Freeman, Pottsville, is secretary; Harry French, Schuylkill Haven, is treasurer; Harry Naffin, Schuylkill Haven, is coin librarian; Laton Hainley, Schuylkill Haven, is stamp librarian and Ben Schnerring, Orwigsburg, Pa., is the club's auctioneer.

Toledo Coin Club officers, Betty Place, secretary, and Stanley Szyperski, treasurer, view some of the estimated half million dollars worth of coins to be seen at the "silver anniversary" show of the Toledo Coin Club October 8 and 9.

The official emblem of the Toledo Coin Club with its sharply-etched blockhouse borrows a symbol of the early days of the city with its colorful history.

C. C. (Tim) Shroyer, Toledo, Ohio, Coin Club president and American Numismatic Association vice president, reads a letter from Ohio Governor Michael V. DiSalle wishing success to the 25th anniversary show at Toledo October 8 and 9. Collectors and dealers from a seven-state area are expected to attend.

$25,000 Coin Collection Is Snatched From Locker

A New York coin dealer reported September 22 a coin collection he valued at $25,000 had been stolen from a locker at the municipal air terminal in Kansas City.

Marcel Silton, Jackson Heights, N. J., told police he had placed a brief case containing the coins in a locker while he went to eat. He said when he returned the locker had been pried open and the brief case was gone.

Silton said the coins were both United States and foreign, and were of gold and copper.

Young Terry Burk in Hawaii has his coin collection back, thanks to a remorseful thief. Redlands, Calif., police put the $88.68 collection in the mail for Terry.

It was stolen in mid-August from his home on West Highland avenue while he still lived in California.

Last week a paper sack containing the coins and holders were found on the front porch of a Highland avenue home near Terry's former residence.

A collection of rare coins was taken recently from the home of Norman Linke, 1047 East Fourth street, St. Paul, Minn. The coins were kept in a container in a bedroom closet.

Burglars took a $100 collection of old United States coins from the Junior Museum, Corpus Christi, Texas.

The collection was a gift from the Coastal Bend Coin Club, Director Albert Heine said.

Thieves took rolled coins and silver dollars from a coin collection that may amount to $2,000, Middletown, Ohio, police report.

Harry Pratt, operator of a grocery market, said his silver dollar collection of 30 years was included in the loot, taken from his home.

James Demos, 18, Chicago, was sentenced to one year in the House of Correction for stealing a collection of liberty half dollars from the basement apartment of Carol Jones.

Charles Schaefer, 20, was placed under a year's supervision with one month of it to be spent in the House of Correction for the same theft.

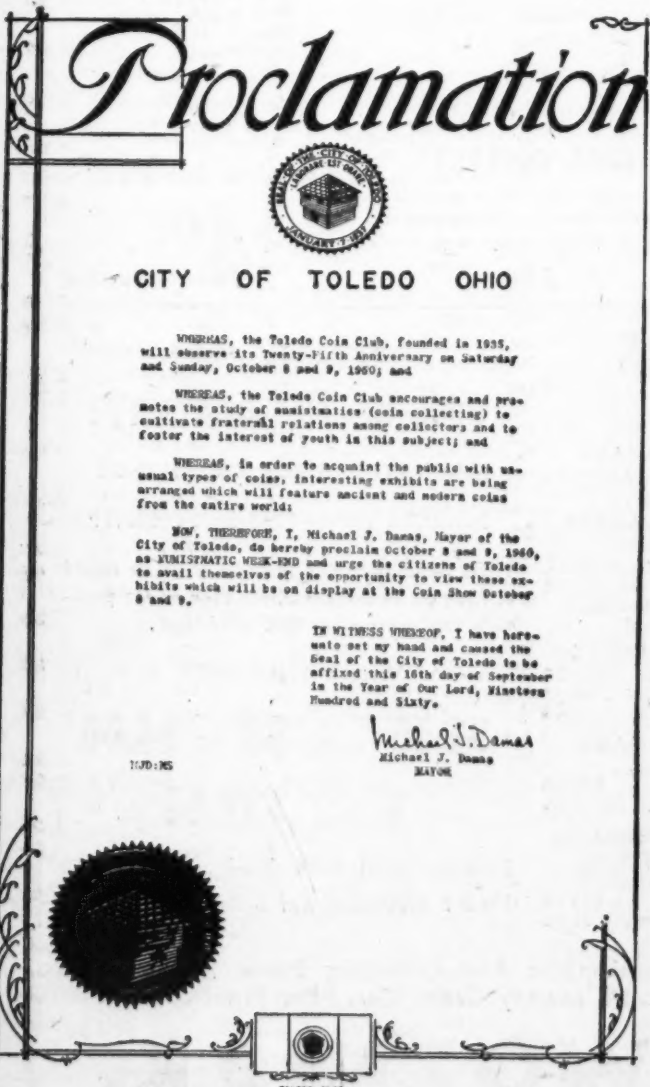

Richmond, Va., self-service laundry operator O. W. Smith recently acquired 82 Mexican coins, but he's mighty unhappy about the rate of exchange.

Eighty-two 10-centavo pieces normally are worth about 65 cents in American money.

But the culprit who stuffed them into the laundry's coin changer may have collected $20.50 if he got five nickels for each Mexican coin.

Denmark Uses Crown

In Denmark the monetary unit is the crown, which is subdivided into 100 ore; the current coins are worth 20, 10, two, one and one-half crowns, 25, 20, five, two and one ore.

This official document proclaims "numismatic week-end" in Toledo, Ohio. It urges its citizens to attend the silver anniversary show on October 8 and 9, sponsored by the Toledo Coin Club.

Paris Collector Kills Brother!

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Last week Coin World presented details of a gory Parisian murder involving two brothers who were avid coin collectors. One was the victim. One was the murderer. And a Roman coin of the time of Marcus Aurelius caused it all!)

Aurelius caused it all!)

What caused a loving brother, a "whole-souled, kindly man" to turn into an assassin?

On the second of October the brothers attended a sale of coins on the Boulevard Montmartre. Both were eager bidders for a Roman coin of Marcus Aurelius and it was finally knocked down for a considerable sum to Adolphe.

Be it remarked here, that although the brothers held all their other property, even their clothing in common, they preserved their numismatic collections distinct, and displayed quite a gentle rivalry in regard to them.

They occupied two of the largest rooms in the house where the coins were arranged in cases. Adolphe's was guarded with locks of different construction from Maximus's.

It was this desire, growing to a mania, which led to his crime!

He might have stolen the coin, but his brother would, of course, discover its absence. What could he do to secure it?

One thought leads to another in natural course.

If he could gain possession of the coin of Marcus Aurelius why could he not make himself master of the entire collection of which the coveted copper was a part?

He replied to that question — knife in hand—by stabbing his brother during his sleep.

The pitiless execution of the crime, the cold-blooded arrangements for its concealment were worthy a professional assassin.

Yet the man wept bitter tears at the first mention of his victim's name; he told with delight many little incidents of the life his hand had cut short; he included the name of his dead brother in his daily prayers.

Only when mention of their collection was made did his brow darken and he poured out a flood of bitter invective against his rival—his rival, whom, after years of loving companionship, the accident of an auctioneer's hammer taught him to hate to the death. Demailly was pronounced a dangerous monomaniac at his trial and sent to a mad-house.

Nickel Model Is Mystery

Who posed for the famous Indian head nickel?
Is the buffalo—or bison—really "old Bronx" once at the New York Central park zoo?

The jokes concerning the buffalo nickel are myriad, but no one expert has ever established the identity of the stony-faced Indian, who represents a lasting memento of the vanishing Americans with red skins!

First struck in 1913 and discontinued in 1938, the Indian head or buffalo nickel was designed to capture a fleeting moment of United States history by picturing the Indian and his most useful animal.

It is known that the designer wanted to preserve for posterity the best possible image of the American Indian.

Some authorities say he chose three Indians—Irontail, Two Moons and an unidentified warrior—to design a composite.

Others say the nickel bears the exact likeness of a very famous Blackfoot tribe chief, White Calf, of Idaho.

A composite with White Calf and four other Indian leaders is still another theory of the model.

Franklin Institute Will Award Medals

The Franklin Institute of Philadelphia has announced it will award a Frank P. Brown medal to R. Buckminster Full, Forest Hills, N. Y., October 19 for his geodesic domes used to house shopping centers and defense installations.

Walton Clark medals will go to Robert W. Cook and Leo F. McBride, Decatur, Ind., for devising a process to seal and prevent leaks in gas mains.

Nickel models? Sitting Bull? Red Cloud?

Bene Merenti Medals Are Awarded Pair By Prelate

Cardinal Spellman presented the Bene Merenti Medal September 24 to Edward W. Chave and Bernard H. Fitzpatrick, staff members of the Cavier Institute, of Industrial Relations. The presentation was made in the prelate's residence, 452 Madison avenue, New York.

A pontifical decoration, the medal was established by Pope Gregory XVI in 1832. It is given to persons who have furthered the well-being of society in an "outstanding manner." Mr. Chave and Mr. Fitzpatrick received the honor in recognition of their long service at the Xavier school.

Dr. August R. Lindt, United Nations high commissioner for refugees, announces that four Britons had been jointly awarded the Nansen medal for this year.

The winners are: Christopher Chataway, Conservative member of Parliament; Colin Jones, a newspaper man and author; Trevor Philpott, a newspaper man and radio personality, and Timothy Ralson, a newspaper man on the editorial staff of New Scientist.

The four are credited with having conceived the idea of the recently ended World Refugee Year.

The medal, named for Fridtjof Nansen, Norwegian explorer and the first Commissioner for Refugees of the League of Nations, is awarded annually for outstanding services on behalf of refugees.

Vending Coins Are Tricky

By Clarence Grant

Vending machine operators find the oddest coins in their collection boxes. Among the foreign coins the most frequent ones are the Canadians. When they turn these Canadian coins over to their banks the loss is usually very slight and it only amounts to a small service charge.

Many times, however, English shillings worth 10c less are wrapped in the rolls containing Canadian quarters. Anybody who looks at the reverse of these coins can tell the difference easily. The newly issued 25 cent pieces show a moose-head, and the denomination: 25 Cents. The reverse of the shilling pieces issued under Elizabeth II. show a shield of arms topped with a crown, and the inscription: Fid. Def. (Fidelis Defensor: Defender of Religion) ONE SHILLING.

The obverse of both coins is very similar. The queen's head is slightly smaller on the Canadian coins, however she wears the same hairdo, and looks to the right on both coins. Only the expert can tell them immediately apart without turning them to the reverse.

There is a difference in the color. Evidently the Canadian coin has a greater silver content while the shilling-piece seems to contain mostly nickel. Both coins bear the same inscription:

ELIZABETH II DEI GRATIA REGINA

On the shilling coin the inscription starts on the top, on the Canadian at the bottom.

C-D COINS

523 Hoyles Ave.
Aurora, Illinois

It is important for vending machine operators to recognize Canadian quarters to tell them apart from English shillings because there is a difference of more than 10 cents in the value, according to Clarence K. Grant, manager of the Perera Company, Inc., Miami, Fla., who has prepared a discussion of these differences for Coin World, accompanied by these photographs. The British coinage, worth 10c less, is on the left; the Canadian quarters are on the right.

tion starts on the top, on the Canadian at the bottom.

The inscription differs on the coins issued under George VI. The shilling says: GEORGIUS VI. DEI GRATIA REX. The Canadian quarter has a reference to the rest of the Commonwealth also, saying:

GEORGIUS VI. D. G. BR. OMN. REX

The reverse of the George VI shilling has more than the inscription on the Elizabeth shilling, namely it also says: IND. IMP.

India's Independence explains the omission of the new coins. It is important to recognize the Canadian quarters and tell them apart from the shillings because there is a difference of more than 10 cents in the value.

During the reign of George V. and under the rule of all kings

Supply And Demand Establish Bureau

Editor's Note: This is a continuation of the special Bureau of Engraving and Printing series which started in the September 29 issue of Coin World.)

There is no organic act which authorizes the establishment of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing or any legislation in the statutes which provides for the appointment of its officers.

An act of congress of July 11, 1862, authorized a new issue of currency and empowered the secretary of the treasury to have the notes or any part thereof engraved and printed by private contractor or at the Treasury department; to purchase and provide all machinery and materials; and to employ such personnel as was necessary for this purpose.

However, both the bureau and its directing personnel have been recognized by congress since 1876 through direct appropriation and in substantive legislation.

Prior to 1861, there was no federal paper money issued. However, the outbreak of the Civil war forced the United States government to introduce paper money as a substitute for specie.

The first paper money was authorized by acts of Congress of July 17, and August 5, 1861, and February 12, 1862, which required the secretary of the treasury to issue demand notes signed by the treasurer of the United States, the register of the treasury, and other officials whom he might designate.

The demand notes were printed by private bank note companies for the Treasury Department, before the bureau came into existence.

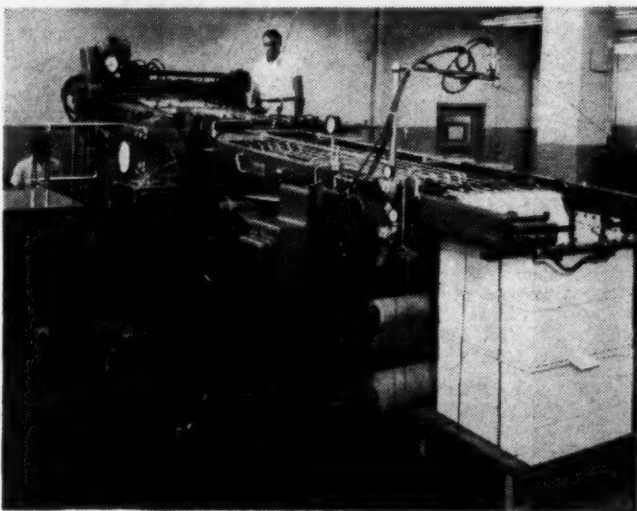

The beginning of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing may be traced as far back as August 29, 1862, when a force of two men and four women working in a single treasury building began to separate, seal, and sign $1 and $2 notes which had been printed by private contractors.

In November 1862, the first division of the National Currency Bureau, later called the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, also commenced the printing of currency notes from plates engraved by treasury employees.

By 1864, it had become apparent that the United States government was to be indefinitely engaged in the manufacture of paper money.

It was therefore recommended to the secretary of the treasury that "The Engraving and Printing Bureau of the treasury department," be established; however, the proposal was not accepted at that time. But, congressional legislation finally recognized its existence in the Appropriation Act of August 15, 1876, and it has since functioned as a distinct entity within the treasury department.

As the years progressed, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing gradually absorbed the functions performed by the private bank note companies and, on October 1, 1877, the printing of all United States securities was centralized in the bureau. The printing of international revenue stamps was taken over in 1876 and the production of postage stamps in 1894.

The bureau in many ways resembles a private contracting firm. It receives orders for work from almost every branch of the Government.

But the greatest number of orders are received from four agencies — treasury department, federal reserve system, internal revenue service, and post office department. The bureau performs the work contracted for and is reimbursed for all work delivered.

From 1862 until 1880, all bureau functioned as a distinct entity treasury building. In 1880, congress appropriated the sum of $300,000 for the purchase of a site and erection of a building on 14th Street at B, now Independence Avenue, for the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

This building is the red brick edifice which stands today just north of the present main building, and until 1955, was occupied by another division of the treasury department. Personnel of the department of agriculture now occupies most of the office space in this building.

By 1914, the bureau operations had increased to such an extent that a larger building was needed. In the spring of 1914, the bureau occupied the present main building which had just been completed. This building cost approximately $3,000,000 or 10 times more than the building erected in 1880.

The bureau annex, directly across from the main building on the east side of 14th street, was completed in 1938. Thus, it may be seen that the bureau has grown from a small unit of six persons to a large modern factory housed in two buildings with a combined floor space of approximately 30 acres, and employing about 3,400 people.

As a precaution against counterfeiting, United States currency notes are printed by the engraved intaglio steel plate method on a distinctive paper with inks manufactured by the bureau. The currency paper for dry printing is composed of 75 per cent cotton and 25 per cent linen.

For wet printing, the fiber content of the currency paper is 50 per cent cotton and 50 per cent linen. Both types of paper contain small segments of red and blue fibers which are imbedded in each product during the process of manufacture. The papers for both wet and dry printing are produced by a commercial firm operating under strict government control.

All inks used in plate and surface printing are manufactured in the Bureau by blending dry colors, oils and extenders of the highest quality obtainable in huge mixers similar to the large kneading machines used by commercial bakeries.

The blended ink mixtures are ground under extreme pressure in large mills between water cooled heavy steel rollers to insure a product of the proper texture. A test is made of each new batch to insure that it conforms with the standard established by the laboratory before any of the ink is used for printing.

The bureau has printed currency by the wet process until recently. As a part of an extensive modernization program which has been in progress since 1950, eight highspeed rotary intaglio printing presses were ordered and installed during the calendar year 1957. Currency ($1 silver certificates, series 1957) is being produced on these presses from larger back and face plates, 32 notes to a sheet, by the dry intaglio process.

In contrast to the wet process which has been in use in the printing of United States paper currency for approximately 95 years, the dry process provides for a relatively high degree of dimensional stability in the paper and simplifies subsequent trimming and cutting operations.

After the backs and faces of the notes are printed, stacks of the 32-subject sheets are trimmed to a uniform dimension and then serial numbers, seal, series year and signatures are printed on each note on the 32-subject sheets by the typographic process.

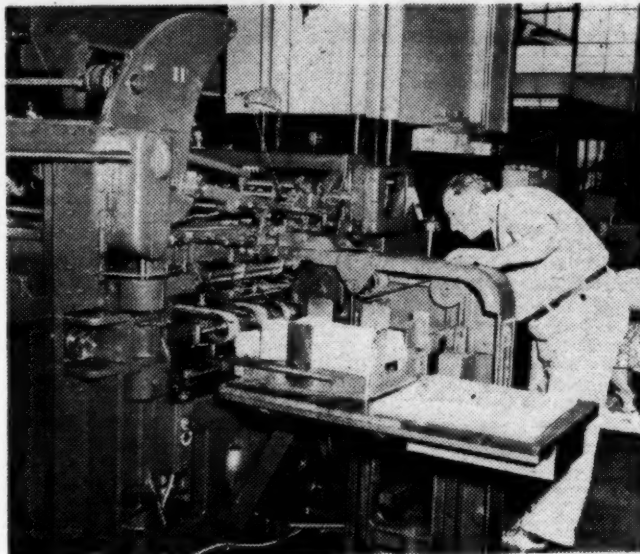

A detailed examination is then made in 16-subject form (1/2 of a full size sheet) after which the sheets are further subdivided into stacks of individual notes. After final examination for removal of defective notes and their replacement with "star" notes, the currency is securely banded and wrapped for delivery.

The entire operation of printing and processing currency in 32-subject sheets is unique in that the work is conducted in a self-contained area. This assembly line production of paper currency has simplified all of the processing operations, as well as enhanced security. Various modifications and refinements are being made in the interest of obtaining maximum efficiency and economy with the new presses.

Until conditions warrant, the Bureau will continue to print paper currency in sheets of 18 notes on its flatbed presses. The paper used in printing currency on the flatbed presses is furnished by the paper contractor in a mill-wet condition and is ready for printing when it is delivered to the bureau.

The moistened paper is first issued to plate printers for printing the backs of the notes. The printing is accomplished on four-plate intaglio power presses.

The engraved plates, moving counter-clockwise around the bed of the press, are covered with a film of ink by means of an ink roller affixed to an ink fountain. Surplus ink on the surface of the paper is removed with the aid of an oscillating paper wiper, leaving the lines of the engraved design filled with ink.

Rotary Numbering Press

The plates then pass under a polisher which removes the thin film of ink left from the initial wiping. An automatic feeder places distinctive currency paper on the plate in the correct position, one sheet at a time, until the plate moves forward and is gripped by an impression roller which, as it revolves, presses the paper down into the fine lines to pick up the ink.

An automatic take-off and delivery device on the other side of the press lifts the sheet from the plate and delivers it onto a tray. The paper is stored overnight in a humidifier preparatory to the face printing by the same process on the following day. The sheets are later put through a sizing solution which lengthens the life of the currency making it more resistant to dirt, grease, and wear.

Subsequently, the sheets are hydraulically pressed in order to give the notes a smooth, hard finish. The margins are then trimmed from the four sides of each sheet on specially-designed trimming machines.

The final printing operation is accomplished on a two-color rotary press which overprints the seals, series year, signatures and serial numbers on the 18-subject sheets in a simultaneous operation. The seal and serial numbers, as previously mentioned, are the same color for a particular class of work.

The series year and signatures are always overprinted in black ink. After the sealing, numbering and signature overprinting operations, the sheets are trimmed and then separated into single notes by a guillotine cutting machine. The finished notes are then examined in units of 100 each. They are banded and wrapped in packages of 4,000 notes, except for the high denominations, which are packed in smaller units.

In the event a regularly numbered note is imperfect, it is replaced by a "star" note. Star notes are exactly like the notes they replace except that an independent series of serial numbers is assigned.

On such currency the star appears before the serial numbers on United States notes and silver certificates in place of the prefix letter, but on the federal reserve notes the star will be used to replace the suffix letter in each serial number.

United States notes and silver certificates are delivered to a vault under the custody of the treasurer of the United States. Federal reserve notes are delivered to the federal reserve vault which is under the supervision of the comptroller of the currency.

Every sheet of paper requisitioned for printing must be accounted for. Sheets or notes which are found to be defective are canceled, scheduled, and delivered to an audit unit for verification and subsequent delivery to the destruction committee, under the jurisdiction of the office of the treasurer of the United States, for final disposition.

bureau by means of a system of internal checks. Currency paper (for 18-subject printings) is counted 12 times from its receipt as blank sheets until it is delivered as finished notes to the offices of issue.

Aside from the printing of the Nation's paper currency, perhaps the work of the Bureau having the widest general appeal is the printing of postage stamps. In this work the type of printing used is "intaglio," the same as for currency. Therefore, postage stamps have much the same excellence in design, general appearance, and quality as currency.

The postage stamps are printed from steel engraved plates made by a hand transfer process and later curved to fit the plate cylinder of the postage stamp presses, whereas paper currency is produced from both flat and cylindrical steel engraved plates made by the electrolytic process.

Montague Has Coin Club And Miss America, Too

First meeting of the White Lake Coin and Stamp Club, located in Western Michigan between Montague and Whitehall, was held September 9 at the Franklin House in Montague with 43 persons attending.

"Besides being the home area of Miss America, Nancy Anne Fleming, western Michigan can now claim a new addition to the numismatic field," reports the charter president, Larry Boyd, of Montague.

Serving with Boyd are Laurin Anderson, Whitehall, vice president; Dale Worden, Montague, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ruth Williamson, Arnold Panzl, and Harry J. Wenzel, Montague, directors.

James Franz, well known numismatist from Holland, Michigan, was responsible for the organization including the constitution and by-laws, according to President Boyd.

Bruce and Susan Hilt and Walter West of the Muskegon Coin Club exhibited their collections at the organizational meeting.

The club will meet the first Thursday of every month at Montague at 7:30 p.m. Auctions will be held at each session.

Regional Show Planned With Okla. Members

The Northern Oklahoma Coin Club, Ponca City, Okla., is planning a regional coin and stamp show. It has discussions and speakers at all meetings. Auctions are held two or three times per year.

It participated in the A. N. A. national coin week activities. It was established in October, 1948. There are 31 regular members. It meets the third Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at home of club members or the public libraries and civic centers.

Officers are elected in December. Billy Jo Oard, Blackwell, Okla., is president; Joe Marshall, Tonkawa, Okla., is vice president; and C. H. Powell, Lake Ponca City, Okla., is secretary-treasurer.

Television May Be A Numismatic Influence

Television with its constant influence upon the small fry—and the subject of many studies as to the degree of influence—occasionally mentions coin collecting an numismatics.

Even Dennis the Menace has been involved in his typical deep trouble in a plot dealing with Mr. Wilson's coin collection.

Dennis-inspired or not, adult encouragement to young collectors can mean the beginning of a life-time hobby. Experts agree most youngsters will be better off if they concentrate on one type or on a small group of coins such as those bearing bird or animal pictures.

Teachers enthuse at the juvenile collector's heightened knowledge of history—there's no better way to sharpen information of other countries and cultures. There are many areas of concentration to suggest to beginners—a strictly United States coin collection, ancient Greek or Roman coins, one denomination only or all the coins issued during a single year.

United States commemorative coins appeal to youngsters; they like proof sets, too. A collector-grandparent could use a birthday to launch a new collector by presenting all the coins issued during one year from a half dollar to a cent. He will, of course, explain the coins were struck from polished dies on polished blanks and distributed at the Philadelphia Mint.

Another good beginning is the birds on coin collection. The 15 coins listed here as a guide bear bird designs; most of the feathered friends are native to the country issuing the coin. The Phoenix and the Double Eagle, of course, are mythical:

A typical world-wide bird collection:
Emu, florin, Australia
Bird of paradise, 5 marks, German New Guinea
Kiwi, florin, New Zealand

Eagle, United States, commemorative half-dollar
Phoenix, 50 sen, Japan
Double-eagle, 100 schillings, Austria

Wren, farthing, England
Dove, 10 centesimi, Vatican City
Peacock, rupee, Burma
Hen and chicks, penny, Ireland
Owl, silver stater, Athens, Greece
Rooster, franc, Madagascar
Woodcock, farthing, Ireland
Tui bird, penny, New Zealand
Quetzal, 25 centavos, Guatemala

Another fine gift to a beginning coin collector would be William M. Hutchinson's "A Child's Book of Coins and Currency, New and Old," (Maxton Publishers, Inc., 15 E. 26 Street, New York, 10, New York). Vernon L. Brown, curator of the Museum of Moneys of the World, has reviewed the book for technical accuracy.

Gift Exhibit Shown At Witte

A 90-day coin and stamp display in progress at the Witte Museum, San Antonio, Texas, following presentation of the exhibit as a special gift from the Mexican government.

Senorita Avecita Lopez Mateos, daughter of the president of Mexico, made the presentation as a goodwill gesture during the recent observation of the 150th anniversary of the start of Mexico's fight for independence from Spain.

Albert Hirschfeld, president of the museum advisory board and San Antonio Museum Association, accepted the gift. A reception and tea honoring Miss Lopez Mateos followed.

We are truly enjoying Coin World. We don't see how you manage to get out such a fine paper every week! The page of Coin Trends by Jim Kelly, the classified ads and the unusual stories on the news pages are innovations of which to be proud and now you have scored again with the world coinage report.

We are proud to be charter subscribers and to have gotten several others to send in their subscriptions to help keep a good thing going. Don't worry about the few who gripe. They won't like Heaven if and when they get there!

Kahoka, Mo.

Recently subscribed to your newspaper and asked for information on telling 1960-D large and small dates apart. Very surprised to receive this in the next issue in the mail.

If that's the kind of interest you show to newcomers consider me a permanent member. I am going to save all interesting articles from your paper in a scrapbook for future reference. In the near future you will receive ads from me.

The special edition of Coin World distributed in Boston at the 69th A.N.A. convention contributed greatly to the interest in this convention. The informative material included in this issue was well chosen and covered most every phase of our hobby.

Arthur Sipe
Drexel Hill, Pa.

Coin World is without a doubt filling a need that no other paper or magazine has done — that is, giving fast, current information.

I do think that the paper money collectors have long been neglected in regard to articles appearing on banks and notes and it is my opinion that the first publication to recognize this and begin printing articles on our early paper money issues will certainly appeal to a segment of the hobby which has many dedicated numismatists in it.

There is a particular need for dealers to begin advertising their obsolete notes and broken bank notes in their ads along with their coins. Many dealers around the country have these notes; however, they have long neglected to realize that the number of paper money collectors is 10 times today what it was just a few years ago.

Since the paper money collectors have no publication devoted to the hobby exclusively where dealers advertise, it is an endless task writing hundreds of letters in search for needed items.

If the Coin World had one page or even one article on paper money in each issue, it would be something for all paper money collectors to look forward to each week. Perhaps you have many reasons why this would not be practical. However, I wanted to mention these thoughts to you.

Austin M. Sheheen Jr.
Camden, S. C.

Reader Sheheen will be pleased with a current series of stories in Coin World dealing with the "educational series" of currency. — Editor.

HISTORY—ECONOMICS—numismatics. William, John M.: "The United States Trade Dollar—America's Only Unhonored, Unwanted Coin." A fascinating history of the use of silver coinage in world trade, and why the United States, in the bonanza silver period of the 1870's, minted a special silver dollar actually called the Trade Dollar. Intended for use in the Orient, it was, for a time, legal tender in the United States and a hot political issue until 1887. Fully illustrated, 216 pages, and heavily annotated for historian, economist and numismatist. Limited edition. $10.00 postpaid. Copies numbered and signed by author, John M. Willem Jr., 1120 Fifth Avenue, New York 28, N.Y.

Also included in the book are rolls of uncirculated coins from 1934 to date; U. S. paper money from 1861 to date; Colonial and early American coins; Confederate States paper money; pioneer gold coins. ### America's First Family Of Coin Albums . . .

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8¼" x 6¼", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

Our albums, books and medals are available at your local coin dealer, stamp dealer, book store, hobby shop or at department store counters.

Dealers are invited to send for our Wholesale Price List, using their business stationery and furnishing suitable credit references as to their commercial status.

PAPER MONEY OF THE UNITED STATES

For the first time in history, Robert Friedberg has illustrated all types of U.S. Paper Money from 1861 to the present, from three cents to $10,000 and added collectors' valuations.

A new, remarkable section, "National Bank Notes by States" illustrates and evaluates by state every National Bank Note, more than 2,200 valuations in all! Territorial Notes are also catalogued, and finally there is a geographical and numerical list of all 14,348 National Banks. More than 300 pages, 8½" x 11" cloth bound. The only reference work of its kind in the world. A definitive work. Third Edition, 1959.
